

TITLE	Diversity bingo
SHORT DESCRIPTION	PART 1 Bingo game: participants find other participants to whom bingo box applies. Walk around and find different people who answer yes to the questions. You can use each question once and you cannot ask more than one question to the same person. If a participant has a whole row completed, he can shout 'bingo'. PART 2 Discussion: why do you or don't you ask someone a certain question? Which characteristic are you looking for? Which questions were easy to ask, which weren't? Did you get the same question more than once? What did you think / How did you feel if someone asked you a specific question? What did you learn from this exercise? Stereotypes? Prejudices?
DURATION	15 minutes for the game, 15 minutes for the discussion
GOALS (why do we use it?)	Getting to know each other Talking about stereotypes, prejudices. Facts versus interpretation, first impression Healthy curiosity Postpone your opinion on someone
TARGET GROUP (students, staff, international classrooms, bachelor or master students ...)	all
PIECE OF THE JONES MODEL	3-4-5
INSTITUTION or SOURCE	http://www.pearsoneducation.nl/hunsaker/pdf/Hoofdstuk%204%20Groepsoefeningen.pdf
CONTACT PERSON

Working Group Internationalisation

European Network of Physiotherapy in Higher Education

DIVERSITY – BINGO
Did you ever work with somebody at least 20 years older than you are?	Have you ever worked on a farm?	Did you ever have a foreign manager?	Did you ever live abroad?	Were your (grand) parents migrants?
Did you ever work with a person with a disability?	Do you speak more than 2 languages?	Do you have a good friend with another ethnic background?	Did you ever have a relationship with someone with a lower level of education?	Have you ever been discriminated because of your gender?
Did you ever work with someone with a different religion?	Do you know someone with a psychiatric disorder or an addiction?	Do you have a gay/ lesbian/ bisexual or transgender friend?	Have you been abroad for study or work?	Do you have family or friends who depend on welfare?
Are you a foreigner in the country you live in?	Are you raised by a single parent?	Are you raised in a prosperous family?	Did one of your parents serve in the army?	Have you ever been discriminated because of race or ethnicity?
Have you ever been treated by a doctor with a different ethnic background?	Do you personally know a convicted criminal?	Do you have an Arabic background?	Are you a vegetarian?	Do you know a chronically ill person?

Walk around and ask your fellow-students if he or she meets one of the criteria. You can only use one name per criterium.

enphe

Working Group Internationalisation

European Network of Physiotherapy in Higher Education

Who has 5 names in a (horizontal, vertical or diagonal) row, calls out “bingo” and is the winner.

If no bingo is achieved, the winner is the one with the most names overall.